EUSTIS WILL BE HERE FOR TWO GAMES

The Eustis ball team, composed largely of semi-professional players, will be here for games next Sunday and Monday. Included in the Eustis team are Grimm, Carrig, Barlow Taylor and Theissen, all of whom are known by local fans as extremely fast men, and it means that both games will be exhibitions of real ball.

Though the weather this week has not been of the right sort, the North Platte team has been down on the lot each evening working out, and they are fast getting into the required form for best playing.

While last Sunday was the opening of the season, the weather was so terrible that ball playing was well nigh impossible and few attended. The management, however, hopes for good weather Sunday and expects a big crowd. Will you be there?

A Welcome Rain

That rain for which we have devoutly wished since early in April began at two o'clock this morning, has fallen gently but steadily up to this hour and indications are for a continuance throughout the day. With warm weather following the rain, corn in the ground will germinate and grow and small grain recover much that it lost during the dry period.
